Under Open Skies, the third major show at Stinsford Studios in Dorchester features Dorset based artists all showing work predominantly inspired by nature. Although the third major show, it is the first to concentrate specifically on the county and its painters.

Organised by artist Julian Bailey, the choice of exhibitors is largely drawn from friends and colleagues and makes no attempt to be comprehensive or judgmental.

The ethos of Stinsford Studios is one of an artist community with everyone participating in the event helping out in various ways. The organisers charge no commission.

The exhibition will be open at The Old Vicarage, Stinsford, Dorchester, Dorset, DT2 8PT from 11am to 5pm on Friday October 10 to Sunday October 12.
